

If the democratic party has no use for its old war-horses it had better "turn them out to grass."

There are more howling democrats than smiling ones just at this time. The charms of office seem to strike the hunger of the crowd.

The Philadelphia Times, democratic, is getting disgusted with the manner of dealing out offices, and says "Fools, sit down," But no democrat obeyed.

Another illustration of the old saying, "it is better to be born fortunate than rich," is found in Tennessee. The violinist, who is only eighteen years old, and is under engagement to play in concerts for two years at $36,000 a year.

Adjutant General Drum, of the war department, has completed a list of casualties in the federal army during the late war of the rebellion. The aggregate number of deaths is shown to have been 339,493. Of these, 29,493 occurred among Union soldiers held as prisoners of war. The total number of troops reported as furnished by the various states under the various calls is 2,724,438. Some of the returns were duplicated, and it is estimated that the actual number was about 2,500,000.

The national conference of charities which is now in session at Washington, has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, W. H. Neff, of Ohio; vice presidents, D. O. Bell, of Minnesota, W. F. Bassey of North Carolina, J. H. Estlin of Georgia; secretaries, H. H. Hart of Minnesota, A. O. Wright of Wisconsin, O. C. McCulloch of Indiana; executive committee, W. H. Neff of Ohio, Philip C. Garrett of Pennsylvania, F. B. Sanborn of Massachusetts, A. E. Elmore of Wisconsin, F. H. Winsor of Illinois. The council consists of all the ex-presidents of the conference.

At the funeral of Odium, the Brooklyn lunatic, was a large floral funeral of the Brooklyn bridge with a bunch of purple violets marking the spot from which he sprang. This gentle reminder which must have been very consoling to his relatives and friends, was the gift of an infantry company to which he belonged. The friends of a Boston hotel keeper revived his memory with a floral oak stove, and a floral lamb was presented to comfort the family of a deceased brother in the same city. Floral horrors, and cards of thanks are embellishments that should be disposed with in every grief stricken home.

The Milwaukee newspapers announce that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company has decided to build a million dollar depot in the fourth ward of that city, within a stone's throw of the center of population. The present union depot is a shabby affair for so wealthy a road to have at its chief terminus, and the patrons of the line will be pleased to learn that something better is soon to be constructed. The right of way to the new site has already been secured, and the street railways are building tracks thither. The gross earnings of the St. Paul system last year were $28,000,000; the expenses over $13,000,000 and the net earnings upward of $9,000,000.

The report comes from Washington that not over one man in forty-three who applies for a federal office gets one. Only thirteen per cent of those who obtain positions have been men who did not have an application on file and backed by party managers. Out of one hundred and seventy-nine cases it appears that one hundred and fifty-three obtained appointments through personal influence. Yet this is the administration under which bosses and rings were to have no influence. This may be all right, but everybody remembers that in the beginning the administration boasts that offices were not to be given to men who used influence to get them.

A chart, which has a powerful meaning, has been circulated among the members of the Pennsylvania legislature, in order that they might be induced to vote for high license. It is in this form, and there is enough significance to it to make a man ponder over the figures with a good deal of soberness.

—Liquor, $850,000,000.
—Tobacco, $600,000,000.
—Bread, $300,000,000.
—Meat, $300,000,000.
—Wool and wool, $200,000,000.
—Woolen goods, $200,000,000.
—Sawed lumber, $200,000,000.
—Cotton goods, $200,000,000.
—Boots and shoes, $100,000,000.
—Sugar and molasses, $50,000,000.
—Public education, $30,000,000.
—Christian missions, home & foreign, $5,000,000.

If there is a more powerful argument in support of high license than this chart, it has never been made.

A number of leading Wisconsin republicans are arranging to give a Post-Republican Henry C. Payne and Col. J. M. Bean a complimentary dinner in Milwaukee, next Tuesday, at the Milwaukee club rooms. It is intended as a recognition of the ability and fidelity with which Messrs. Payne and Bean administered the late office, and of the valuable services which they have rendered to the republicanism party. Governor Rusk, Senator Sawyer, Congressman Gauthier, General Fairchild, Edward Sandersen and Colonel James H. Howe, of Keosauqua, are among the projectors of the proposed banquet. If any republican in Wisconsin is entitled to the thanks of the republican party of the state, it is Henry Payne. He fought a noble fight last fall and is entitled to the highest compliment the party can pay him.

They don't have any such a thing as murder in Kentucky. When one man shoots another in cold blood, it is simply spoken of by the citizens in that state as an unpleasant and local difficulty. The killing of from two to half a dozen citizens in one of these affairs, is not an uncommon circumstance in Kentucky. Such a difficulty at Berea recently between four men resulted in the death of three of them. Two of the men had been on trial for selling whisky contrary to law, and the other two had been witnesses. But this unpleasant local difficulty will not interfere with the sale of whisky in that part of Kentucky. There is many a man in that state who has taken his life in his own hands that he might dispense whisky contrary to law.

The Cedarburg News, of this state, is a democratic paper, but it is feeling mean enough to say: Bragg's expression, "we love him for the enemies he has made," has cost us more good democratic Irish votes in Wisconsin than we care to tell, and it had not been that on the eve of the election Brother Burchard had turned up with his counter poison, Cleveland and the democratic party would have been where the woodbine twined. Cleveland's nomination at Chicago was only a matter of time; the dirty Know-Nothing element which is to be found not exclusively in the republican party was so tickled with Bragg's saying, that the nomination of Cleveland occurred a few ballots sooner—that is all the good. If it can be called, Bragg did do by his very smart expression in that connection, but it nearly cost us the election.

One prohibition convention has had its proceedings honored with a good deal of common sense. In Erie county, Pennsylvania, the prohibitionists had a large gathering, and they adopted among other things, "that while we believe in absolute prohibition we would urge the stringent enforcement of all existing laws which are intended to resist the evils of intemperance." One important principle is this, and it ought to be honored by every prohibitionist in the country, that anything which will reduce the numerical and financial strength and the political influence of the liquor interest is a step toward the realization of their ideas, if those ideas can ever be realized at all. Nothing can be more honorable or common sense like than this, and it other prohibition conventions shall adopt the excellent resolutions which their Erie county friends adopted almost unanimously, there would result, therefore, a mighty temperance reform.

The Gazette hopes that there will nothing serious grow out of the following from the Milwaukee Sentinel: "From time to time, when the Madison Democrat gets in a very tight place, it publishes the charge that the present editor of the Sentinel, during the war, used his political influence to get his name stricken from the list of drafted men. Irritated by an allusion in the Sentinel to its inconsistent course respecting General Harnden, late collector of internal revenue at Madison. The Democrat reproduces the story in question. Since persons who see this charge, and who are not familiar with the character of the Democrat, might possibly believe it, were it to go uncontradicted, the Sentinel now brands it as a falsehood, and the man who makes it as a willful and deliberate lie." This is pretty stout language coming from the physically frail editor of the Sentinel, and buried at the six-foot and robust editor of the Democrat. This shows how little physical strength has to do with framing a man's words when he is imposed upon and like a man just flings his sentiments clothed in thorns, at the man who insults his honor.

The republicans of Ohio did a satisfactory piece of work when they nominated Judge Foraker for governor. He is a splendid specimen of strong manhood, an able lawyer, a fine speaker, a man of brains and conscience, and is very popular. The chances are that he will be elected this fall. The republicans are united in Ohio, and the temperance element which contributed to the election of Judge Hoody two years ago, is disgraced with the market to which they took their political potatoes. The more prudent and wise of the temperance party will join hands with the republicans and thus defeat the democrats. The platform adopted by the republican convention is an admirable one, and two very important planks read as follows:

We favor the establishment of a national bureau of industry, the enforcement of the eighth hour law, and adequate appropriations from the public revenue for general education wherever the sum is needed. We denounce the importation of coolie labor and favor the most stringent laws to prevent it. We are opposed to the acquisition of the public lands or any part thereof by non-resident aliens. We are in favor of a protective tariff, which will encourage American development and furnish remunerative employment to American labor; and we are opposed to the British policy advocated by the democratic party under the guise of a tariff for revenue only.

We demand the restoration of the wool duty of 1867, or its full equivalent, and we denounce the democratic congress for failing to make good the pledges they made in its behalf. We condemn the action of the present administration in lowering the national flag upon public buildings at Washington, as a mark of respect to a man who dishonored the one and sought to destroy the other who planned with cruel determination to his hiding place in Canada to evade the employment of citizens with fire, and to sweep to death their inhabitants by scattering everywhere the germs of infections and fatal diseases.

CASES OF CALAMITY.

THREE AWFUL DISASTERS AT HOME AND ABROAD.

A Score of Laborers Killed and Mangled in a Railway Tunnel—Blown to Pieces by Dynamite in Mexico—A French Horror.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 12.—News of a terrible catastrophe at New River on the Cincinnati Southern railway, 100 miles from this city, has just been received. About 6:30 o'clock in the evening a north-bound construction train, having on board fifty hands started for New River. As the train was passing through the tunnel the walls gave way and fell with a terrible crash. In an instant the air was filled with shrieks and groans of dying men. Just how many were impaled in the tunnel cannot be learned, as there was no list kept of them. Already the bodies of three who were crushed to death have been removed from the debris. Three more are known to have been killed. The train was in charge of Rudmister Simpson, who is missing. It is also believed to have perished. Of the fifty on the train about twenty or thirty escaped unhurt. The remainder were all more or less hurt. A large number are believed to be fatally injured. It is impossible to secure late details, as the wires are down. A force of men is at work removing the debris and clearing the tunnel.

An Iowa Town Tornadoed. BRANTFORD, Iowa, June 12.—A dispatch from Massena, Cass county, says that a tornado struck the village of Brantford, eight miles from Massena, on Monday, the twelfth inst. The storm was very severe, as there are two distinct traces of tornadoes in the town. The first house struck, a two-story frame, was blown down, and Mrs. Lilly was severely injured. The latter has since died. Mr. Hartman's house was the next one struck, and not a timber was left standing. Mr. Condon, who was in the house, received facial injuries. The members of the family were all injured. Dr. Hagan's drug store was moved from its foundations and the stock ruined. The building next to the drug store was the only one in the village that escaped injury. S. F. Patterson's broom factory was blown away, some of the heavy machinery being carried several hundred feet. The dwelling house and all the outbuildings of James Swenson are gone, barely a trace of them being left. James Fone's house was unharmed, and one of Richard Bell's dwelling is a complete wreck. E. Strong's stable was blown away, but his horse was found uninjured, tied to the manger half mile away. The residence of James Hendry was blown down, and a bed containing two children was lifted into a yard, not a cover on the bed being disturbed. A score of other buildings were more or less damaged. The loss will reach $50,000.

Full of a Crowded Staircase. PAINS, June 12.—At Pains, a town in the department of Tzucule, Yucatan, a murder trial had been in progress for some days. Wednesday, the last day of the trial, the court house was crowded with men and women anxious to witness the closing scenes. When the people were leaving, immediately after the adjournment of court, and were jammed upon the stone stairway leading to the street, the lofty staircase fell. The scene that followed was appalling. Immense masses of masonry from above crashed down upon the struggling people below, grinding through their flesh and bones and mangle and mutilating them in a horrible manner. The fall of the staircase and the shrieks of the people lying helpless in the ruins caused a panic in the court-room, and there was a rush for the now wrecked exit. Those who were in the front were unable to withstand the pressure from behind and were hurled down upon the men and women crushed in the fall of the staircase, and whom the people in the street were already striving to rescue. The total number of the injured is placed at 187. Of these fourteen are very seriously injured, and some of them will die.

Frightful Explosion of Dynamite. ZACATECAS, Mexico, June 12.—Twelve miles from this city is situated the celebrated Santo Tiburcio del Lavate Grande mine, which has produced over since the Spanish conquest, yielding untold millions of silver during that time. Within the past few years it has been newly developed and fitted throughout with the most modern machinery. The work of recovering and reaping all portions of the great mine has been in progress, and Thursday approached completion. Large quantities of timber and other material, including blasting powder, have been kept on hand. Thursday morning an explosion occurred, the report being plainly heard here. Five hundred cases of giant powder had gone off by some means, and the mine was blown to pieces, and as many were wounded. The mine and everything near are a complete wreck, the surface improvements being totally destroyed.

The Cashmere Earthquake. LONDON, June 12.—The British resident of Cashmere reports that a terrible shock, of great severity, took place at Jarmulh and Sopur have been utterly ruined and 400 persons killed. There has also been great loss of life in adjacent villages. Many cattle and sheep have been killed.

GEN. GRANT'S FUTURE MOVEMENTS. Dependent Upon His Health, When and Where He Will Go This Summer.

New York, June 12.—Gen. Grant will spend a portion of the summer at the country residence of Joseph M. Drexel, of this city. At New Mcgregor, eleven miles north of Saratoga. The trip will probably be made on Tuesday, June 23, but the date will depend entirely on the general's condition. Should the weather become settled and the patient feel better, the trip may be undertaken sooner. The family are ready to go at the shortest notice, and the general anticipates the change with great pleasure. Gen. Grant's room will be in a corner of the cottage on the first floor. No food will be cooked in the house. The general and his family will receive their meals from the hotel. Dr. Douglas will be in constant attendance on him. A closed carriage will take the general from his residence to the entrance to the tracks of the New York Central railroad at Forty-sixth street. There he will be assisted into President Rucker's private car, which will afford as comfortable quarters as his sick-room in his own home.

Mrs. Grant, Col. Fred Grant and wife, and Mrs. Sartoris, will accompany the general. They will remain at Mount McGregor during the month of July, and perhaps longer. During August they will remove to the Hotel Kaaterskill, where a suite of rooms has been set apart in the new building, at some little distance from the hotel proper. They return to New York about September.

—The Janesville Cotton Manufacturing Co. will pay its semi-annual interest due June 15th on and after the above date on presentation of coupons at either of the banks of this city.

—The scholars in the third and fourth grades of the high school room will spend to-morrow afternoon picnicking on the river bank. The steamer Enterprise has been chartered and will start with the party at about one o'clock, returning some time after supper.

—The Beloit Improvement company filed articles of association with the secretary of state on Thursday, the object being to transact a general real estate business. The capital stock is $10,000, divided into 100 shares, and the incorporators are J. B. Peck, C. B. Salmon, and E. P. Wheeler.

—James Ryan, the tramp arrested yesterday afternoon by Marshal Hogen, was brought into the municipal court this morning, on charge of stealing an album of the property of Mr. Ellsworth Green. The tramp waived an examination, and the date of his trial set for June 19th. He was sent to jail for safe keeping.

—A fellow standing on the north side of West Milwaukee street soon after one o'clock this afternoon, when "old sol's" heat had sent the mercury up among the 90's, remarked as we passed by, that it was a warm day. We had no desire to dispute him, at the same time noted in our memorandum that this is the warmest afternoon of the season.

—All persons who enjoy a saucerful of fresh strawberries, or a dish of pure, unadulterated ice cream, should not fail to spend a part of this evening at the social in the Sunday school room of the Court Street M. E. church. The young ladies having the affair in charge extend a cordial invitation to all, and any person not present will without doubt, miss the best thing of the season.

—The team of ponies driven by Galbraith Brothers has attracted much attention and many attempts have been made to buy it, but the largest sum yet is $500, which was offered in exchange for the pair by a prominent west side citizen. The present owners did not wish to dispose of the diminutive trotters, however, and even this seemingly extravagant price was not accepted.

—The juice of the apple in the month of June is about the only relic of that fruit worth considering, realizing that Capt. W. T. Yankirk has just put in stock a car load of choice sweet older. A sample jug left at the Gazette office has induced us to make arrangements for a pipe leading to the store while the older lasts. The public are invited to call at the grocery end of the line.

—The little item which appeared in the Gazette of last evening, in regard to the arrest of the tramp in the park, wherein it was stated that the tramp had placed an album in a west side saloon, was not exactly correct. The facts that have since come to light are that the tramp was induced to leave the album at the saloon, and the proprietor immediately gave the information which led to his arrest.

—The notice that appeared in last evening's Gazette in regard to the anniversary being celebrated by Mr. E. G. Field stated that operations commenced on his saw mill June 18th, 1837, and that the following year Mr. H. F. Jones purchased lumber for the first frame house ever built in Janesville. The statement should have read that the mill commenced to deliver lumber the middle of June, 1837, and Mr. Jones' purchase was the same year instead of 1838.

—A friend of the Gazette recently spent a little time at Elgin, Illinois, and while there had the pleasure of witnessing the drill of a company of uniformed Knights of Pythias. The drill is described as very fine. The company took part in the parade on Memorial Day, adding greatly to the interest and beauty of the procession. Our friend suggests that Oriental Lodge of Janesville would be benefited by a division of Uniformed Knights.
